

Arxis Technology, Inc. Announces Customer Conference - Connections

Conference to Provide Forum for Technology Education, Networking, and Relationship-Building

Simi Valley, CA (PRWEB) August 20, 2009 -- Arxis Technology, Inc. is pleased to announce their customer conference - Arxis Connections. The conference will be held on Thursday, October 15, at the Glendale Hilton in Glendale, CA.

Connections will provide a unique opportunity for Arxis clients to network, learn how to better utilize their software, and gain awareness of available technologies to further their success. With two general sessions and nine workshop options, the conference offers valuable learning for all Arxis clients including company executives, accounting and operations, sales and marketing, and HR and payroll staff.

Arxis also plans to have a trade show area featuring a number of business products and services complementary to their primary business application. A buffet lunch will be provided along with drinks and hors d' oeuvres at the post-conference mixer. In addition to the product and technology education, one of the significant benefits of Connections is the chance for clients to build relationships with Arxis personnel and industry peers.

And if that weren't enough, Arxis clients can take advantage of a special offer, which enables them to receive free consulting when multiple employees attend.

The conference will run from 9:30am - 7:00pm. Arxis clients may register to attend by calling (866) 624-2600 or visiting <http://www.arxistechnology.com/connections>.
