Los Angeles, CA (PRWEB) September 24, 2010 -- David Cieslak, CPA, CITP, Principal of Arxis Technology, Inc., was recently chosen by Accounting Today as a member of their “Top 100 Most Influential People” in the accounting profession. As a part of the sixteenth annual list, Cieslak joins leading CPAs, attorneys, regulators, politicians, educators, vendor representatives, and even President Obama. This is the sixth time and fifth consecutive year Cieslak has been recognized as a part of this elite group.

The Top 100 article stated, “...the profession is bracing for another round of potentially game-changing events,” which include health care and financial reform legislation, new technologies, new firm structures, new media, and others. Fortunately, the Top 100 and other industry leaders are poised to expertly lead the profession and those it influences through these challenging times.

Of Cieslak, in particular, the article stated, “Cieslak plays an integral role in educating the CPA community – he’s no stranger to the conference circuit, where he can be relied on to introduce accountants to useful technologies and tools they have not yet heard of.”

“Technology plays such a vital role to the accounting profession’s success,” Cieslak said. “I’m thankful for the opportunity to educate many CPAs on the latest technology, information security, and the ERP software landscape so that they can improve their practices and better serve their clients.”
